

Alissa Hincey, B.A., M.Ed

English Teacher

Lebanon High School

Alissa Hincey, B.A., M.Ed., currently teaches high school English. She has taught junior high Language Arts and served as an Intervention Specialist for Lebanon City Schools. She has her Masters degree in Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment from Walden University and her Bachelors degree in English Literature from Ohio State University. Alissa actively supports quality education for all students. She has experience working in a co-teaching model and is successful in supporting inclusive educational service delivery.